AMAC Patriots,

AMAC supports the preservation and sanctity of life, granted by God to all humans born, and preborn. The right to life is not only a natural right, but it has been codified in our Declaration of Independence, the 14th Amendment to our U.S. Constitution, and by extension, laws against murder in all 50 states.

In the spirit of life, AMAC Action has joined in a letter to the Supreme Court, an Amicus Brief, submitted by Advancing American Freedom and 48 other concerned people and organizations to support the right to life as well as state sovereignty in the cases of Danco Laboratories v. State of Louisiana and Genbiopro v. State of Louisiana.

The good people of the State of Louisiana “outlawed abortion in most circumstances,” but a young mother to be was coerced by her boyfriend into taking mifepristone, a dangerous abortion drug, which he obtained by mail order from an abortionist in California; in violation of Louisiana state law. Not only did this drug cause an abortion, but it caused this young woman to suffer both physical injury and lasting mental harm. This injury was made possible by a policy of the Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) that allowed this abortion drug to be issued, without an in-person appointment, and then delivered by mail. This circumvents the sovereign choice of the State of Louisiana to prevent abortion.

AMAC Action has joined this Amicus to urge the Supreme Court to support the sanctity of life under the 14th Amendment and preserve state sovereignty under the 10th Amendment.

Sincerely,
